The Ashley Hotel - T23 X9AK

A halfway point between Dance Cork Firkin Crane and the rest of the city, The Ashley Hotel is a great option for those looking for a comfortable yet budget-friendly option. If you fancy a few laughs, you can pop into the comedy club next door or even visit the legendary Sin é (Pronounced "shin-ay") bar across the road, rub shoulders with the locals and listen to some of the best traditional Irish music the city has to offer.

REZz Hotel - T23 F3CN

The ReZz Hotel is a favourite among artists visiting Cork for its hotel-meets-hostel feel and compact accommodation that gives a new meaning to the phrase "fun-sized". If you want your own private space that feels a little special, this may be the right option for you. MacCurtain Street also has some of Cork's best dining options with Greens Restaurant, Cask and Gallaghers close by. On the same side of the river as both Dance Cork Firkin Crane and The Everyman Theatre, you won't just be central, but in the heart of Corks' artistic community itself.

Brú Bar & Hostel - T23 CD00

Brú Bar & Hostel is another pit-stop found on MacCurtain Street and is particularly favoured by students and musicians. They frequently hold open mic nights and while it may not be the most stylish on our accommodation list, it's cosy and comfortable to boot!

The Address - T23 T292 ★

The Address is another one of our collaborating hotels that offer support to artists working with Dance Cork Firkin Crane by providing discounted rooms, wheelchair access and free parking. They are also renowned for their hospitable staff and incredible views of the city. Situated close to the city centre and a 20-minute walk from Dance Cork Firkin Crane, staying at The Address will mean you can temporarily call the beautiful Victorian hotel home.

Redclyffe B&B - T12 X070

Redclyffe is a warm and welcoming family run B&B that is located a short 10 minute walk to the city centre, Fitzgerald's Park and a number of historic walking trails. It is the only accommodation on our list that offers a car hiring service, so, if you plan to explore the wider Cork region during your stay, they're well worth considering.
